FARMELDER RESOURCES

The creation of a dynamic Project and Training Website designed to fulfil dual objectives: promoting the ongoing activities of the project while serving as an invaluable hub for accessing educational materials and resources focused on the intricacies of social farming.

WEBSITE

The website is a vital hub for social farming resources, regularly updated and promoted via social media. It is continuous maintenance and updates reinforce its role as a reliable resource for the social farming community, fostering long-term sustainability. Explore our website to learn more about social farming and the FarmElder project.

TRAINING PLATFORM

You can access directly from the website the high-level training material suitable for farmers who want to start or are already engaged in social farming.

All material is available in five languages: English, French, German, Portuguese and Slovenian.
